CGYPP 2021 TOPIC:

Ways out of the crisis

The Covid-19 pandemic has all of a sudden turned our lives upside down. Our society has switched to crisis mode, newspapers and political speeches are dominated by Covid-19, its worldwide implications and consequences. But what kind of crisis are we actually facing right now? And what are possible ways to overcome it? Is the Covid-19 pandemic the accelerator of deglobalization? If so, is it a big threat for Germany and the Czech Republic? Furthermore, the number of those who feel left behind and restricted in their personal freedoms is increasing, which has led to a certain crisis of confidence in our democratic system. We want to discuss these challenges and possible answers to the crisis in a Czech-German context. Creatively, interactively and polemically, with a wide range of political and economic leaders, with leading journalists and experts - and we want to share our insights with the general public.
